Vanguard Global Corporate Bond Index Fund

Managed by Vanguard Global Advisers, LLC.

Investment Objective

The fund seeks to provide returns consistent with the performance of the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Float Adjusted Corporate Index Hedged, a market-weighted index of global corporate fixed income investments with maturities greater than 1 year.

Performance Summary (unaudited)

The Performance Summary does not form part of the Financial Statements.

- For much of the period, concerns about inflation and whether policymakers' efforts to rein it in might spur a global recession were top of mind for many investors.
- Early on, energy prices continued to cool amid an outlook for slower economic growth, but price increases then began to broaden to other categories, notably the services sector, which felt the effects of tight labour markets.
- The prospect of inflation remaining stubbornly high kept central banks – including the Federal Reserve, the European Central Bank and the Bank of England – raising interest rates in the first part of 2023 but through less aggressive hikes than in parts of 2022.
- The fund's benchmark, which is hedged to the US dollar, returned 9.10% for the 12 months ended 31 December 2023.
- By country, the United States, which has the largest weighting in the index, underperformed the index as a whole. Canada and Japan were also among the laggards. Other index heavyweights including Switzerland, Italy, Spain and the United Kingdom posted double-digit gains.
- There was little difference in performance by sector.
- From a credit-quality perspective, bonds on the bottom rung of the investment-grade ladder performed better than their higher-rated counterparts. By maturity, intermediate- and long-dated bonds outperformed.

All returns cited in this commentary are based in US dollars.

Returns are based on NAV with income reinvested.

All of the returns in this report represent past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results that may be achieved by the fund. For performance data current to the most recent month-end, which may be higher or lower than that cited, visit our website at <http://global.vanguard.com>. Note, too, that both investment returns and principal value can fluctuate widely, so an investor's shares, when sold, could be worth more or less than their original cost.

* The tracking difference between the fund return and the index return over a stated period of time can be attributed to a number of factors, including, without limitation, small differences in weightings, trading activity, swing pricing, transaction costs and differences in the valuation and withholding tax treatment between the fund and the index vendor.

The Central Bank of Ireland requires a schedule of material changes in the composition of the portfolio during the year. These are defined as aggregate purchases of a security exceeding 1% of the total value of purchases for the year and aggregate disposals greater than 1% of the total value of sales. At a minimum, the largest 20 purchases and 20 sales must be shown; all purchases and sales must be shown if there are fewer than 20. A full listing of the portfolio changes for the year is available, upon request, at no extra cost from the Administrator.
